Keep Seeing These Phrases?
Here’s a Quick Run-Down of What They Mean!

Attendee Networking Area
Located in the learning hall, this area has seating for attendees to take a break and network together. Roundtable discussions, continuing the conversations, and the clinical practice pavilion will all be located here.

Career Fair Pavilion
Attend professional development workshops, visit with nurse recruiters, and receive the information and tools you need to make an impact on your career.

Clinical Chats
Connect with ONS oncology clinical nurse specialists and learn more about issues you face when caring for your patients. Nurses from ONS will be available after each clinical chat to answer questions and address the specific needs you have in your practice.

Continuing the Conversations
Held in the attendee networking area, these small gatherings allow attendees to meet with speakers in an informal, intimate setting to learn more about their session topic and ask more in-depth questions.

ePosters
Posters are visual depictions of research and clinical practice projects conducted by nurses over the past year. You can view all 500+ ePosters online before, during, and after Congress.

Meet and Eat dinners
ONS has made group dinner reservations for Congress attendees to explore the tastes of DC while spending some “off time” with other attendees.

Roundtable Discussions
Participate in open discussions and learn more about topics relevant to your practice with smaller groups of attendees.

Symposia
These are industry-sponsored breakfast, lunch, and dinner programs held outside of the official Congress schedule. They are produced completely independently of ONS and usually require a separate registration through the online scheduler. Some offer CNE, but not through the Congress evaluation.

Theater Presentations
These are non-CNE industry-sponsored events held in the learning hall.
need to be pointed in the right direction? stop by the information station.

have a question on site?

we’ve made group reservations so that you can explore the foodie side of dc while getting to know other attendees. claim your spot by signing up at the information station! participants are responsible for their own dinner expenses.
